Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment and remarks of February 28, 2008 are entered and have been fully considered.
2. As a result of an updated search, all previous allowances are withdrawn in light of the new prior art.
3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 14 and 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yildirim et al.

Yildirim et al. shows a sliding valve having a sliding sleeve 5 which is axially displaceable in a control cylinder 1 and which controls, with control faces on its outer periphery, at least one control opening in the control cylindrical, each control face being radially elastically flexible in the direction of the control cylinder and bearing against the control cylinder, wherein the sliding sleeve in the region of the control faces, has a plurality of longitudinal slots which form between them spring tongues 14 on which the control faces are disposed.

6. Claims 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yildirim et al. in view of Seitter et al.

Seitter et al. teaches a fuel injector comprising two axially offset control openings 32 having adjoining nozzle bores. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the device of Yildirim et al. by providing at least two axially offset control openings as has already been taught by Seitter et al.
